Yanks Invade Samal Island In Davao Gulf

'Strong Pressure' Being Exerted On Japanese Forces On Mindanao Says MacArthur

GAINS ARE MADE ON TARAKAN ALSO

By JOHN CASHMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANILA, May 10.—U. S. amphibious forces, invading strategic Samal Island in Davao Gulf, were engaged today in clearing the last vestige of Japanese resistance from that 10-mile-long isle.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the new shore-to-shore operation in which elements of Maj. Gen. R. B. Woodruff's 24th Infantry Division went ashore at Samal after pre-landing air bombardment softened enemy defenses. MacArthur, who said his troops were "rapidly clearing" Samal which is only six miles from the eastern shore of the broad Davao Gulf, added that on Mindanao itself "strong pressure" is being exerted on Jap positions.

Swarm Across River

Yank troops of the 24th Division, supported by Moro guerrillas, swarmed across the Talomo river north of Mintal and quickly secured a bridgehead. At the same time, 31st miles eastward, beyond Kibawe, while the northernmost U. S. column in the interior came to grips with a fiercely resisting enemy force near the southern Naramag airdrome.

Dive bombers and Mitchell bombers, supporting the Doughboys in all areas, blasted the Japs with 100 tons of explosives.

On Luzon, main island of the Philippines, continued mopping-up operations with strong air support. In the central sector, the Yanks pressed nearer to Ilo.

Progress On Tarakan

Australian and Dutch invasion forces on Tarakan were revealed to have secured an important height north of Api airfield. The Allies are driving toward the Djoeata airfields.

In support of the Tarakan campaign, the forerunner of recent quest of Borneo's rich oil and rubber lands, bombers and fighters struck Jap airbases as well as "important installations" at Brunei Bay, Miri and Sandakan on Borneo. Tarakan lies just off Borneo's east coast.

Army Point System For Demobilization Made Public Today

By JOHN A. REICHMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The war department today made public an elaborate system of partial demobilization of the army and disclosed that some doughboys will be discharged within the next two weeks.

The method of discharging heroes of the nation's victorious armies is based on a "point" system. Veterans who have achieved a "critical point" score of 85 can expect to be discharged.

How Credit Is Given
Here is how the veteran's "point" service credit will be reached to bring about the discharge of nearly 2,000,000 men within the next year. Each soldier will get one point for each month of army service since September 16, 1940, or 12 points per year and one point additional for each month served overseas since September 16, 1940.

Five points of combat credit will be given for his first and each additional award for distinguished service performed since September 16, 1940.

For each child under 18 years up to a limit of three children he will receive 12 points.
While discharges will start within the next two weeks these will not be in large numbers and will affect (Continued on Page Fourteen)

New Problems Now Confront World Parley

Demands Are Made By Australia And New Zealand Following Latin-American Move

MOLOTOV LEAVES ON TRIP HOMEWARD

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—The "Big Five" faced the delicate task today of revising the United Nations charter to give the Pan American league a policeman's club in the western hemisphere while denying similar authority to Australia in the South Pacific.

The Latin Americans won a promise from the "Big Five" to exempt their beloved Chapultepec security pact from subordination to the new world security order by threatening to oppose extension of the same concession to Russia and its allies in Europe.

Brings Australian Demand

This brought an urgent demand from Australia and New Zealand that they be given autonomous authority to suppress aggression in all islands of the Pacific below the equator. This would give them local jurisdiction over the Dutch East Indies, Borneo, Java and Sumatra, the Solomons (Guadacanal), the Celebes, New Guinea, Samoa, New Caledonia, the Fiji Islands and the New Hebrides.

Refusal of the Australian plea seemed indicated when the Netherlands government announced its opposition to such a plan.

The newly formed Arab league of Egypt, Syria, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, and Lebanon, was asking a like concession. It too received scant consideration by the great powers.

The demand for Pan American autonomy however was handled with far greater suavity, skill and success. The Latin Americans taught the "Big Five" that real politicians came to San Francisco from below the Rio Grande.

German Submarines Being Surrendered

LONDON, May 10.—(INS)—With Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz slated to be shelled as government head of the defeated Reich at the earliest possible moment, remnants of the German submarine and surface fleet which Doenitz commanded began surrendering today to the allies.

A British task force moved into the channel islands at the same time to take over from surrendered German garrisons.

At least six U-boats, flying black flags of surrender in accordance with armistice terms, were observed moving toward port by planes of the RAF coastal command.

Finish Battle With Japanese Being Charted

Little Relaxation In Controls At Home Until Pacific Enemy Is Totally Defeated

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(INS)—

The United States today swung its war production and manpower sights from Europe to the Pacific to chart a finish fight with the Japanese.

War Mobilizer Fred M. Vinson, in outlining the nation's one-front war program, sternly cautioned that manpower releases, reconversion and the further relaxation of civilian controls are geared to the length of the Pacific conflict.

Victory Comes First

"Victory over Japan comes ahead of every other consideration," Vinson said. "The war will be shortened and peace speeded, lives will be saved, our men will come home sooner, if everyone dedicates himself to his main objective."

Vinson indirectly dampened increasing optimism over a prospective 20 per cent increase in civilian reconversion during the first quarter after V-E day by stressing the magnitude of the Pacific war.

Six months after V-E day, he said, war production will almost equal the 1943 rate. Some production categories, notably heavy bombers, (Continued on Page Two)

REPORT 16,425 U. S. CASUALTIES TO DATE

By GEORGE McWILLIAMS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GUAM, May 10.—Assault troops of U. S. Tenth Army, which in five weeks suffered 16,425 casualties, continued to move southward today, bucking Okinawa's gluey mud as well as stubborn Jap forces.

However, the skies were clearing and the terrain rapidly drying, according to a frontline dispatch from International News Service War Correspondent Julian Hart who said the Yanks were "feeling out approaches" to the Jap stronghold of "Conical Hill" and Hill 187. At "Conical Hill" the Seventh Division encountered "accurate" machine-gun, mortar and some artillery fire.

On Naha Outskirts
This height is less than a mile northwest of Yonabaru today, while the marines on the right flank were approximately the same distance from the outskirts of Naha, the capital. Hart said they were "within striking distance" of the city.

Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, who failed to describe specifically the gains made by the Yanks, said that from opening of the Okinawa operations through Monday marines and Doughboys of the Tenth Army suffered the loss of 2,884 killed, 13,202 wounded and 539 missing.

Powerful Fleet Support

In their advances deeper into the tough Naha line on the southern section of the Ryukyu Island, 225 miles southwest of Japan, the Americans were supported by powerful concentrations of U. S. warships. Both carrier aircraft and land-based planes operating from recently-seized bases on Okinawa also bolstered the ground forces.

Circles close to the war crimes commission said that the one-time big-shot Nazi probably will be tried by an international court established somewhere in Europe at the proper time.

These sources said that Goering probably is on all "priority lists" of Nazi war criminals submitted by the various governments which suffered under the Germans.

PITTSBURGH, May 10.—(INS)—A plea to continue buying war bonds was made today by Mayor General Charles C. Haffner Jr., hero of Seventh Army and featured speaker at next Monday's Seventh War Loan opening in Pittsburgh.

General Haffner cited Western Pennsylvania bond-buyers for the vital part "played in the bringing about of V-E Day," and he asked them "to continue that support of the armed forces until the last Japanese comes out of his stand retreat with his arms above his head in final surrender."

BOND TASK TREMENDOUS

PITTSBURGH, May 10.—Don Brockett, War Finance committee deputy manager in charge of pay-rolls set-ups in the 19-county Western Pennsylvania Fort Pitt area, today reminded bond-buyers that due to the 60 per cent increase in the district's "E" bond quota the task before them is "tremendous."

More Than 400 B-29 Bombers In Raids On Japan

Super Fortresses Smash At Vital Oil Storage Areas And Enemy Airfields

LARGEST FORCE EVER TO HIT JAPS

By JOHN R. HENRY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GUAM, May 10.—A record force of more than 400 American Superfortresses smashed home the opening blow today in the stepped-up campaign to bring Japan to her knees.

Signaling the transfer of American military attention from the European theater to the Pacific, the largest force of the American sky giants ever to strike at the enemy homeland, hit four of Japan's most important fuel installations, as well as four air bases.

Attack Many Targets

(The Japanese Domei agency acknowledging today's raid, placed the total number of Superfortresses at approximately 300. The dispatch said the American bombers fanned out and attacked targets on southern Kyushu island, southern Honshu and Shikoku. FCC monitored the first Jap report which made no mention of damage to enemy ground installations and made no claims to shooting down or damaging the raiding planes.)

Placing in swift execution the pledge by America's Pacific war commanders to step up the air war against "our remaining enemy," the huge formations of B-29s roared from bases on Guam, Tinian and Saipan to raid three of Japan's four main islands.

Concentrate On Oil Storage

At each target the Superfort bombers dropped their bomb loads visually. They concentrated on vital oil storage areas at Tokuyama—where two full installations were targeted—at Osaka, both in southern Honshu, and the Oshima oil storage area, near Kyushu's northwest coast.

In addition, the B-29s staged new tactical blows against the USA, Miyazaki and Konoysa airstrips on Kyushu and upon the Natsuyama field on northwest Shikoku.

We ought to be planting and plowing and such, we ought to be out on the lot, but there isn't much use when the weather is wet, what we need is some weather that's hot. It feels more like weather for football I'd say, rather than a rain pelting down, and unless you have noticed the trees are all green, you might expect they'd be brown. So I wonder just when we'll get sunshine again, for the season begins to grow late, come Mister Weatherman show us some sun, the weather is wet, forty-eight.

Giant Supply Plan For Yanks Being Reversed

Almost Four Million U. S. Soldiers In Europe To Go To Pacific Or Return To U. S.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, May 10.—The giant supply system of the American armies in Europe went into reverse gear today to re-deploy the almost four million Yank soldiers in Europe.

The greater part of supply forces scheduled to go into the Pacific will be re-deployed from this theater, while the majority of combat units will be sent through the United States.

With the defeat of Japan now America's primary concern, SHAEF officials warned that military necessity may hold in action many troops who would be eligible for discharge were they in the United States at the present time.

A priority system has been set up to make transportation to the United States available first to the sick and wounded; second to liberated prisoners of war; third to units to be re-deployed through the United States to the Pacific and finally to those awaiting discharge.

By order of President Truman, Acting Secretary of State George A. Clegg, announced that the official mourning for President Roosevelt, at sundown, Monday, May 14, will remain at half staff until then.

ed that a family was expected, she said, he flatly refused to have anything more to do with his wife.

Readjustments Hard
The Pittsburgh attorney believes that young couples whose marriage culminated a high school or college romance when the youthful husband entered the service may have a hard time making readjustments.

Especially will this be true, Mrs. Davis said, in the case of the young husband who never earned a living in civilian life but made a good salary as a flying officer.

After the war, she maintained, "these young men and their wives are going to be forced to learn to live on much less in all probability."

Requires Common Sense
Mrs. Davis explained, however, that in general people and marriages are no worse and no better than they were years ago.

The young people, who married and knew each other for a long time, knew each other's background and family, and who have the stamina and character to see it through, will have no trouble readjusting to each other and making a success of their marriages," she declared.

"A successful marriage only requires common sense and some strength of mind."

Foresees High Divorce Rate
Ann Arbor, Mich., May 10.—(INS)—The United States will have the highest divorce rate in history as a result of furlough marriages and hastily ill-considered postwar weddings.

This was the prediction today of Dr. Ernest W. Burgess, University of Chicago sociologist.

"Final influence contributing to divorce will be the postwar marriages resulting from short acquaintances of young people who were forced to postpone marital relations," he declared.

Dr. Burgess stated that older veterans will be inclined to court younger women, forcing older women to become less discriminating in their choices.

land, today reported smoke rising as high as 15,000 feet over the enemy's war-depleted oil stockpiles.

The four-pronged blow executed by the largest Superfort force in history, hit the Nips' oil supplies the hardest blow to date.

Lieut. Col. L. D. Briggs, Bountiful, Utah, saw 88 Superfortresses precede his plane over the Otake refinery, on southern Honshu, and said smoke was rising to a height of 15,000 feet after the big craft unloaded their bomb loads.

Most Successful Mission
"It looked like a very successful mission to me," Briggs declared. "A wonderful job! I let all the bombs go into the target."

Pilots said they saw a huge mushroom of flame shoot toward the sky beneath the billowing smoke over Otake.

The weather was perfect and all bombs were dropped visually. Bombarrier Sgt. Peter Woytowicz, (3452 Erdman Ave.) Baltimore, Md., was in one of the last B-29s over the target and said:

"Otake was covered with a pall of heavy black smoke as we went over in the last element. I also saw Tokuyama, thirty miles northwest of Otake on the inland sea, burning fiercely as we passed."

Fighter opposition was entirely lacking over the enemy homeland but flak was heavy and accurate, pilots reported. All the American planes in the history-making force returned safely.

One man was reported hurt—a pilot who bumped his leg in the cockpit of his plane.

NEW PROBLEMS NOW CONFRONT WORLD PARLEY

were willing at first to subordinate all regional arrangements to the superior authority of the new world security order. Then they learned to their chagrin that Russia had won several major concessions, including the right to put down all threats of aggression in enemy states of the second world war without even consulting the new world security order. That touched off the Latin American revolt.

The southerners promptly tied up the proceedings of the regional arrangement committee of the security council commission—which passes upon this issue before it ever reaches the conference itself.

They forced an adjournment of the committee until Friday. They bluntly told the "Big Five" they never would permit action on the Russian plan until their own was first approved.

Conference Surprised
Exclusive revelation of this victory by International News Service early Wednesday morning caught the entire conference by surprise. This news was published before it had even been communicated to the individual members of the American delegation.

The Latin Americans propose to incorporate their victory into the United Nations charter by an "addition" to the so-called Molotov amendment—which gives Russia tremendous power over the defeated Nazi states in the future. Russia or its allies would be empowered to use military force against Germany, Austria, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria, Finland, Japan and even Italy at any threat of a "renewal" of a policy of aggression. Russia can interpret this clause to its own satisfaction.

Molotov Departs
The departure of V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign commissar, took the Polish problem out of the conference. It remained unsolved and even more complicated than when he arrived. This was the demand of Stettinius and British Secretary Anthony Eden that Russia fully explain the arrest of 16 Polish underground leaders before any further action is taken about the Lublin government. Molotov went home without yielding any explanation.

The last major controversial issue before the conference was the trusteeship problem. The United States and Britain, sponsoring opposing solutions, are reported nearing agreement. The outcome undoubtedly will be a compromise, incorporating parts of each plan but insuring United States military control of captured Japanese islands in the Pacific.

War Production To Drop
At the end of three months, war production will drop from 10 to 15 per cent of present levels. After that, Vinson said, "larger cuts cannot take place until the long pipelines to the Pacific have been 'laid'."

"To date, our fighting in the Pacific has constituted only the preliminary battles to the main attack upon Japan," Vinson declared. "The main battles lie ahead."

The War Manpower Commission, meanwhile, prepared to issue a formal statement implementing Vinson's declaration that "a great part of those now employed in war production" must stay on the job.

The WMC plan is expected to order retention of labor stabilization, employment ceilings, priority referrals and the 48-hour week in critical groups I and II areas.

Plant Conversion Program Will Be Speeded By Order

W.P.B. Announces Orders May Be Placed For Delivery After July 1 For Materials

By EARLE MARCKRES (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 10.—WPB Chairman Julius A. Krug announced today that manufacturers converting to civilian production may place orders for steel, copper and aluminum immediately for delivery after July 1.

Krug made the disclosure in outlining the WPB's "flexible" program for adjustment of controls over production during the interim period until Japan is defeated.

Small business, including war veterans and new enterprises, producing less than $50,000 per quarter, will receive high priority assistance from July 1 to December 31, 1945, in the allocation of controlled orders of steel, copper and aluminum.

"WPB wants and encourages the small business man to get going as fast as he can," Krug declared.

About half of the 420 limitation and conservation orders in effect April 1, Krug said, will be rescinded within the next few months.

Freed materials, however, must still be channeled first into essential civilian items, such as farm machinery and utility equipment.

Krug reiterated that WPB intends to relax control "wherever that can be safely done," but war production and essential war-supporting activities for the Pacific conflict will receive top consideration.

Free Enterprise Victory Factor

While the war in Europe ended, attention is being drawn to the fight in the Pacific. Military commentators now believe that the end of Japanese military might is not as far off as was feared a few weeks ago. It is believed that even if we do not get as much help as expected from our allies, Japanese forces will soon be crushed. The Japanese have a fountainhead which would induce them to die to the last man, if the Emperor so desired, but the preponderance of men and materials is against them.

The collapse of the Nazi might in Europe is due, of course to no one weapon. But it is to be admitted that one chief factor was the material aid given by the United States, even before our brave and fine armies were sent over.

One only has to go back in memory to the days before the United States entered the war. There was no question of the bravery of the Russian forces but it is evident that it was the material aid sent to Moscow from the United States and Britain which enabled the Russians to hold out. And the British were able to furnish material aid because of the replacements they were getting from the United States.

So far as the British Empire is concerned, with much of its production crippled by Nazi air raids, we can guess just how important was American material aid from the first.

Then came the final phase of the war with the overwhelming of the German armies and of German factories. This was brought about by a great degree by the destructive power of the Allies' airplanes and other mechanism. And it was the great productive power of the United States which made this preponderance possible.

All of which leads to the question—when came this tremendous production? It came from the skill of free American labor and American management. And that skill has been fostered and developed by American private enterprise. It was not necessary for the government to step in and take over war production. Such action would have hampered, not aided, the war effort. When American free enterprise and American free labor were given the "go" sign they certainly "went to town" to use a phrase of the street. Certainly one of the big lessons of the war is that American free enterprise can deliver the goods.

Eisenhower—Leader Of A Victorious Team

Victory in Europe—the greatest ever achieved in the course of history—was, in the last analysis, brought about by the unswerving will and work of millions around the globe determined to be free.

But they had leaders worthy of them! The men, headed by General Eisenhower, who smashed the strongest military power the world has seen, constituted a team without parallel in the history of war. They were top-ranking generals and field marshals; men of long and brilliant experience in war.

When the war started General Eisenhower rated only the silver maple leaf of a lieutenant-colonel. When he was invested with the Supreme Allied command, the most terrific responsibility ever imposed on one man, he was a general outranked by some of the men the British assigned to serve under him.

How he welded diverse Allied armies into one great fighting whole and formed the group around him that he did as afforded ample evidence of his greatness both as a general and a man. He had to withstand gigantic pressures, even to contend against the judgment and desires of so powerful and persuasive a statesman as Winston Churchill.

Never once was the Allied drive from the west, directed by Eisenhower and carried out by his associates, turned back. Even the Battle of the Ardennes Bulge, Hitler's dying, desperate, final effort, was turned into a Nazi disaster.

Our Nation, and all the United Nations, have been fortunate in having such a leader, and such followers, as the victorious team of Eisenhower, Montgomery, Tedder, Smith, Spaatz, Bradley, Simpson, Patton, Hodges and many others—architects of one great victory whose spirit must never cease to rule us and our affairs until the other still to be won is achieved.

Another Type Of Atrocity

For three centuries little Holland has been slowly forcing back the waters of the North Sea. A third of that country's area is reclaimed land. She had not yet fully won her fight to lock out the sea when the war broke out. Germany occupied the country and then, as defeat came to the German army, resorted to typically German destructive tactics.

One-fourth of the Netherlands—more than 3,000 square miles of the total of 12,862—now lies under the sea again, deliberately flooded by the Huns. To the very end German troops, trapped in the fortified cities, continued to open more dikes and flood more land. Germany has been battered into ruins by bombs and shells. Yet grass and grain will grow again on German farms. But more than a fourth of the Netherlands' productive area is gone—gone for perhaps centuries.

The scope of the tragedy can be gauged by the example of the last big dam built by the sturdy Dutch. It cost them $55,000,000 and they expected to spend $100,000,000 on drainage over the ensuing 30 years. All that is ruined today, as is most of the work that had gone before through the last three centuries. What faces the Dutch now is the problem of feeding their people.

Many Dutchmen are now demanding that Germany make some compensation for this tremendous loss by giving up West Frisia and a strip along the Dutch east border for the farmers whose own land now lies under the waters let in by the Nazis. It is difficult to find any objection to a demand so obviously just.

War Plant Disposal

Many events are occurring which, in the course of more sensational events, escape attention. The other day the Department of Justice issued a report on the war plants of America which was buried on inside pages at a time when Germany was falling to pieces.

This report recommended that war plants be leased rather than sold as they became available for disposal. The argument is that this will give business and the government opportunity to determine more realistically the ultimate sale price and will encourage bidding by small businesses.

By time of expiration of the lease, it was contended, there would be greater possibilities for the use of new processes and the production of products not previously on the American market.

Normally, at least six months will be required to convert a war plant to peacetime production, the department contends, and an equally long time for a prospective purchaser to collect data necessary to determine whether he wants to bid.

The program for disposal of war plants will be formulated by Congress. Many views beside that of the Department of Justice will be considered.

WASHINGTON CALLING
by MARQUIS
CHILDSEconomic Brakes
Must Not Be Lifted

WASHINGTON, May 10.—It is hard to realize that one phase—the principal phase—of the greatest war in history is at last ended. It has gone on so long, it has cut so deeply into our lives.

That bright September Sunday in 1939 when the world went to war seems infinitely far away. The Europe that existed then has been blasted off the face of the earth. The familiar pattern of European society which barely survived World War I has now been forever altered.

Perhaps a nobler pattern is coming into being. The first faint outline may be emerging at San Francisco. Certainly that is the hope of the millions who have suffered through the hideous ordeal of the past six years.

One's thought turn to the soldier who will never hear this news; to the leader who fell before the battle ended. If Franklin Roosevelt were here—

Known Peace Difficulties

There is more and more reason to believe that in the weeks just before he died, Roosevelt felt—as he had not felt before, or as he had not permitted himself to feel—the fearful difficulties of the peace. His mood, when he returned from the Yalta conference, was as near to disillusion as a man of his sanguine temperament could ever be.

Talking privately to those closest to him, he revealed his sadness over his failure to make any progress toward certain of the ideals that were first in his thoughts. One was the plan of trusteeship for colonial peoples. He had been able to make no progress in the face of the opposition of Prime Minister Churchill. Yalta was shot through with conflict and confusion.

Yet, publicly, Roosevelt did not acknowledge any setback. It was not in his temperament to do so. It was both his strength and his weakness that he never lost a battle.

The victory that has now finally come belongs to him. It was he who resolved the doubts, the uncertainties, in the waning months before we were attacked. Against the background of that resolve, the nation formed up for the goal which has now been reached.

Words Apply Now

"It is for us the living," Lincoln's immortal words come to mind, "rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us."

Those words, spoken more than 80 years ago in the midst of another terrible war, apply now almost more than they applied then. In some ways, it seems that our task has only begun. We have defeated the forces of evil, but it does not follow that we have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us.

First of all, the line must be held for the completion of the war in the Pacific. Any precipitate release into greedy conflict that ignored the demands of that other war would be a betrayal of the men who must fight it.

To Squander Victory?

It would also be the surest way to squander the victory here at home. We must certainly keep on the economic brakes for a long time to come. There is no other choice.

Our Armistice Day, 1918, the cost of living average was 62 per cent above 1914. By the middle of 1920, it had gone up to 108 per cent. We had a brief boom, particularly in land values, and then the bottom fell out. That was the preface to another and greater boom which was followed by the depression to end all depressions. In reality, it was the preface to World War II.

Price controls have already slipped a long way. There are disquieting reports from all over the country. The administration must move quickly to tighten these controls.

It is important not only for us here at home, but for a stable peace throughout the world. One of the most essential tasks for us, the living, is to help rehabilitate liberated Europe. There can be no victory on a continent torn by disease, hunger and anarchy.

FAILURE

Could the children happier be
Somewhere else than here at home

With their mother and with me?
If we nightly saw them roam,
I should wonder, troubled tossed,
How their confidence we'd lost.

If they knew a happier spot
Then this home we've tried to make,
Filled with joys we wanted not,
Saw for order's rigid sake.

I should hate to think of them
Every rug and chair we own
If my children, needing aid,
To another made their plea,

And were openly atrait
To come, first of all, to me,
Then I'd surely know I had
Been a failure as their dad.

Whether you realize it or not your way of manner, attitude and deeds exercise a certain amount of influence on your family and your associates.

Have you ever taken the time to think about the way and the degree to which you influence people?

If not, do it today. You can be a strong influence for negative or positive thinking. The person who is a creative thinker—who plans things, makes things, does things that help to make this a better world for his fellow man is a good influence.

Most of us in some degree exercise an influence on others. Every man or woman is a guide—a pattern—an ideal—or an "oracle" to someone.

Great Game

By The Baltimore SunAmerica Must Not
Relax In War Effort

WASHINGTON, May 10. WITH "UNCONDITIONAL" surrender written into the record and victory over Germany at last official and complete there is a natural disposition to look back over that war, to reckon its terrible costs and review its long bloody course. But it is best to leave all that to the historians. Not only are regrets and reviews futile but there just is not time for them.

There isn't even time for the kind of wild celebration with which, after a conflict, unprecedented in ferocity, unmatched in horror and in lives lost, the final collapse of our chief enemy would make fitting. The tremendous size and urgency of the problems that now protrude are such as to forbid dwelling upon what has happened in the last five years and compel concentration upon the present and the immediate future. For the tasks that lie ahead in both foreign and domestic fields will tax to the limit the capacity of our public men and the patience of our people. Their magnitude and difficulty call for all we have of intelligence and fortitude.

There could be no more ghastly mistakes than to assume that our sacrifices are over and the time has come to relax. President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and our highest military and political authorities have tried to drive that idea home but it isn't easy to blanket the normal reaction over the total cessation of hostilities in Europe nor avoid the natural pause for the immense relief felt throughout the country. Yet one only has to reflect the obvious facts to preclude joy from being completely unconfined. First of all there is the grave responsibility placed upon the Allied nations to co-operate in peace as they have in battle so that a third global war more horrible and ruinous than this one shall not occur.

TO THIS end wisdom, skill and tolerance of the highest order are required to insure success for the San Francisco Conference and the emergence therefrom of an international collective security organization that will set its firmly on the road to permanent peace. Neither the Polish nor any other issue should be permitted to divert us from that goal. Unless it is achieved the real victory will have eluded us. Aside from this great basic charter, for which the people of every land yearn, there are to be settled the vital problems of reparations, the delicate questions of territorial division, the difficult business of governing Germany and the great burden of supplying needed food and materials to the starving population of the devastated countries so recently liberated.

ALSO, there are the great domestic problems involved in recovery, employment, food production and distribution and the recovery of the Federal financial equilibrium, which has been deeply disturbed by the stupendous war costs. These are by no means diminished by the surrender. For example, in less than a week Secretary Morgenthau will launch the drive for a Seventh War Loan—this time for 14 billion dollars, the biggest of all. There is no question about the need for this loan. To let it fail would be to withdraw support from millions of service men, many of whom will have to remain in Europe for a long time to come, but most of whom will be in the South Pacific until Japan—our one remaining but exceedingly vicious and fanatical enemy—is crushed.

HOW LONG this will take no one can tell. It may be that recognizing the certainty of her doom, Japan will try to save herself from Germany's fate by an immediate unconditional surrender. But the military opinion is that she will fight on, and that before the end of the war we will have to put an army in Manchuria and beat the Japanese on land, as we did the Germans. That may take two years. That would impose great strain upon our resources and call for continued war production and governmental civilian controls. Considering these things, no sensible man will contend that this is a time to let up on the problems growing out of the war will take all we have of energy and endurance.

VITAMINS OF MEAT

Meat is one of our most valuable foods. It is rich in protein, iron and other valuable substances.

It contains an abundance of vitamins.

Sometimes in the preparation and cooking of meat some of these vitamins are lost.

When meat is soaked in water for a long time some vitamins are dissolved into the water. If the water is thrown away the vitamins are wasted.

If meat is not boiled the water takes vitamins out of it. If the water is discarded the vitamins are lost.

Water in which meat has been cooked should be used for soup or in some other way for it contains valuable vitamins and minerals.

Sometimes meat is broiled to remove some objectionable flavor. Perhaps it is better to use sage or onion or bay or some other flavoring to save the vitamins.

WASHINGTON, May 10. What stuff are great men made of? No, not William Shakespeare speaking. Just my own surmising. What food do the famous fellows devour in order to keep the brain working clearly and the footsteps light?

I don't know of what calories Foreign Commissar Vacheslav Molotov and Foreign Minister Anthony Eden took two helpings of before they went into those San Francisco conference talks. But I do know the favorite food of Senator Arthur Vandenberg when he is in Washington.

Senator Vandenberg is being described by knowing people as the single most important person at the security conference. And he eats—baked beans.

Not long before Senator and Mrs. Vandenberg left for the West Coast a friend called one Sunday morning with an impromptu invitation for supper at the Chevy Chase club.

"We'd so much rather see you quietly," Mrs. Vandenberg explained. "Let us come to supper with you at your home instead."

The prospective hostess said she adored to have the "two of the way" like best. Then she murmured something about a food shortage in her job.

"Don't give food a thought," said Mrs. Vandenberg. "We'll bring our own and yours, too. You fix a salad and an old fashioned. And we'll be there at 6:30."

At 6:30 Senator and Mrs. Vandenberg arrived bearing a bulging wicker basket, and the hostess was many a yard of baked beans, a special chili, pickles, a loaf of buttered bread and a bottle of—

ABLE MEN NEEDED IN MINISTRY

With so many of our ablest ministers, priests and rabbis being lost while serving as chaplains in the war, parents and teachers who strongly believe in things spiritual should encourage more of our brightest men and women to enter the ministry as a vocation.

As I see it, our nation will be in peculiar need of able persons in ministry during the post-war period. No matter how well our economic and political problems may be solved, we shall still need men and women who don't place foremost their own aims, but rather those of the church, in their lives.

Our country needs right now is spiritual leadership. After all, those men and women who have strong character and spiritual energy can best be leaders if they also have strong personalities, sound minds, and ample education and training.

Zeal for Ministry

Today, when money is so generally the measure of all things, parents who see first values in what money cannot buy, might, if they have won the admiration of their adolescent son, inspire him with a zeal to enter the ministry.

A teacher, too, who is highly esteemed by youth might encourage many to enter the ministry, provided, of course, the teacher is broad enough to inspire the youth.

I am so firmly convinced of the foregoing that whenever any young person, no matter what his religious preference, expresses interest to me in the ministry, I commend him and encourage him. Of course, he must be sincere and have apparent mental abilities. By no means, I encourage anyone who wishes to avoid the ministry.

We can't recommend the ministry for its material reward. It usually will require considerable personal sacrifice. But we surely can praise the ministry as a rich field for individual service.

As a rule, vocational counselors are inclined to stress vocations only in terms of making a living. Why don't they more often hold up to youth the service ideal? Why don't they offer more bright youths to enter those fields in which they may gain satisfactions from service whose products don't perish? Why should we not set the stake at school for the high school boy or girl who aspires to be a nurse, missionary or minister will be as glad to have it known as his classmates as if he were going into law, engineering or business?

Rich Field

There was a fear that the Russians would destroy Vienna in their fierce advance, particularly as much as Vienna is a military objective in the first meaning of that term. Both Napoleon and Von Moltke declared that Vienna was the key to Europe. Yet, even after Vienna was not under the absolute domination of Hitler, Goering and Himmler, for the city was surrendered to the Russians after a very short struggle and before any serious damage was done.

The world is pleased that Paris was saved from destruction for it was "Gav Paree" that Rome was saved because it was the Eternal City, a city containing the Vatican, the home of the Popes, and Vienna because it was the City of Romance, where under the rule of the Hapsburgs lived the great Johann Strauss and strongly enough the world's interest in Vienna was centered on its high place as the capital of medicine and science, as well as its beautiful women and its Bohemian life. To the multitudes, Vienna is somehow connected with a bit of music composed by that same Johann Strauss. Vienna to these people suggests intuitively "The Blue Danube." To its smooth inductions the crowned heads of Europe, the glittering soldiers and the staid diplomats dined in royal and feudal palaces. Stately rhythms and smooth—

Commercial Planes On Manufacturers' Schedule Once More

First Major Shift In Production Controls Must Not Hold Up War Schedule, WPB Says

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Airplane manufacturers now hold a V-E Day "go sign" from WPB to start building "Constellations" and other warbird sky giants for the nation's commercial airlines.

In its first major shift of production controls following Germany's surrender, WPB authorized the industry to "develop and build equipment for sale to American air carriers" provided there is no interference with military schedules.

Both government and manufacturing circles were confident the latter stipulation would be no barrier to supplying the airlines with new transports—the present 21-passenger DC-3; its big brother, the four-engine C-54, or the C-97, the transport counterpart of the famed Superfortress.

Officials indicated that recent cutbacks and changes in military plane production left sufficient slack to more than fill the airlines' need, recently estimated at 300 of the conventional type transports.

Such an order represents hardly a drop in the bucket to an industry expanded 50-fold during the war.

Manpower, facilities and most materials are regarded as adequate to begin work almost at once on limited commercial output. Only textiles and fabrics present shortages which offer serious difficulties.

However, the envoy told the acting secretary that his country was fully aware that another war is going on.

De Bianchi expressed the "great admiration" the Lisbon government felt for the successful war effort and sacrifices of the United States and said that Portugal was trusting and hoping that the United States would perhaps be the greatest contributor to future peace and international cooperation.

American business, Grew continued, may travel in Switzerland when they are traveling in behalf of national interests.

Simultaneously he revealed that no tourists or individuals may visit Europe at this time for personal reasons which are non-essential.

Biggest Candle In World Is Lighted

CHICAGO, May 10.—(INS)—An 18-foot three-inch candle burned briskly Wednesday after J. A. Beauparlant, a Chicago candlemaker, lit the two-and-a-quarter-ton column of wax in celebration of victory in Europe.

Beauparlant spent four months constructing the candle, one of a collection of 2,000, in his back yard. The candle is 26 inches in diameter at the base and 16 inches at the top. A sashcord serves as a wick.

Six years old, the candle is painted red, white and blue and has previously been ignited only on national holidays and other special occasions. Beauparlant describes it as the "world's largest candle."

tered brown bread and a jar of brandied peaches.

The peaches and pickles, Mrs. Vandenberg explained, had been made at the family home at Grand Rapids, Mich., to suit the taste of her husband. The beans were his taste anywhere. He'd rather have them than any other food.

The beans were, indeed, to the Senator's taste. He ate three man-sized servings, enough brown bread to feed a kindergarten and undoubtedly his share of the accessories.

I am told that popular George Allen, who used to be district commissioner and is now very much in evidence about the White House as ghost writer and cheery companion, is a nephew of the almost legendary congressional figure, "Private John Allen."

Private John Allen was a gentleman of the old school of the very deep South. Among his many engaging qualities was a knack with mint julep.

Mint Julep Eulogy

Did I say knack? I meant a talent. A talent described in an intense oration by the late Senator Tom Heflin on the rare gifts of Private John Allen. The oration was delivered in 1920 before the members of the Senate. Here is the julep eulogy:

"As he made it, it was amber-colored liquid that flowed over the velvet folds of the stomach like a dewdrop sinking in the heart of a rose."

The next paragraph in the Congressional record from which I quote was as follows: "Presiding officer: 'The galleries will be in order!'"

Ah, me, those were the days! Tom seemed a violent fellow to many people. But his rages would be milk and honey in this sickening, evil world of now.

It is hard to rejoice heartily about anything now. The group with which I heard the false peace flash tried to be jubilant over the war's end. But they could not outwardly cheer. Of course, were thankful to Heaven that the fighting in Europe seemed to be over. But the knowledge of the fearful task still ahead deadened the weight of the news. We had grown numb with months of acceptance of killing destruction. Such had become almost our usual tempo.

We have had a nauseating dose of man's inhumanity to man in the last time or four years. I should like to return here in Washington to the cheerful rages we used to enjoy on the "Voiceless District" and Why the Washington ball team can't win a pennant.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

flowing, it is grace and grandeur embodied in music.

But aristocracy alone has not enjoyed this tender, romantic masterpiece of the elder Strauss. Throughout the world, for generations, the feet of the masses have kept pace with its entrancing, seductive phrases. The masterpiece of pomp and panoply has become the theme song of romance for the millions.

Older citizens of New Castle can remember the days when the St. John's Day reception given by the Masonic Fraternity was the last word in social entertainment. It was the one place where evening dress was demanded and where George, who possessed the really worthwhile orchestra of Western Pennsylvania, played "The Blue Danube" and where later generations danced to the same gracious air to orchestras led by Jelly in the Lawrence, Juniata and Fellows Clubs.

The Blue Danube has already run red with blood, Vienna, since World War No. 1 and the end of the Hapsburg reign, had to a large extent ceased to be the home of bohemianism and romance. But this musical dream of the King of the Waltz, in hearts all over the world, will long outlive the destruction and devastation of war.

In Glasgow, Scotland, traffic policemen have white helmets bearing illuminated signs. The word "police" appears on the front of the helmet, and "stop" on the back. Electric power for the signs is supplied by batteries on the wearer's belt.

Financial Task Still Gigantic

War Expenditures To Remain At 250 Million Dollars Daily Level For Some Time

By EDWIN D. SIAZ
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—A Treasury department official revealed today that the war against Japan will keep government war expenditures at the current high level of 250 million dollars a day at least until next fall.

In making this disclosure, Ted R. Gamble, national director of the treasury's war finance division, warned that "the task ahead of us in terms of financial need remains gigantic."

Despite all that has and probably will be said about expenditures there is no indication whatever that expenditures for war will fall below their present level for a period of at least 90 days following conclusion of the Seventh War Loan drive ending June 30," Gamble emphasized.

Treasury officials made it clear that forthcoming cutbacks in war production programs will not immediately be reflected in war expenditures. Contracts which are already under way will be completed, was explained, and most cutbacks will occur in programs slated for a future date.

Gamble, in telegrams to all star war bond chairmen, asserted that the 14 billion dollar Seventh War Loan—May 14 to June 30—represents the greatest homefront challenge of the war.

Cancel Jeep Output From Ford Company

DETROIT, May 10.—(INS)—The biggest contract cancellation of the war was disclosed today when the Ford Motor company announced that it had cancelled production of Jeeps at the Ford Motor company.

Production is expected to end July 31, it was learned.

The Ford company has been building about 5,000 Jeeps a month at its Detroit, Dallas (Tex.) and Richmond (Calif.) plants. It began building these vehicles on Oct. 19, 1941.

The Ford company has only the tank engine, the robot bomb engine and other small war work left. Its Willow Run and Pratt and Whitney engine production has already been cut back. Willys-Overland in Toledo will now be the sole producer of the Jeep.

French To Aid War On Japanese

NEW YORK, May 10.—(INS)—In an order of the day to the French army, navy and air force, Gen. Charles De Gaulle warned that "you have yet to vanquish, side by side with our allies, the Japanese enemy who oppresses our Indo-China and pretends to dominate Asia," the Paris radio reported today.

The darter, a small fresh water fish of the perch family, is so named because of its quick motions.

New Atrocity Is Charged To Nazis

WITH THE U. S. SEVENTH ARMY, May 10.—(INS)—Another German atrocity in which approximately 125 Jews were killed in the last hours of the war, was reported to U. S. Seventh Army officials today by a liberated British prisoner and German civilian in Kraiburg. Capt. Charles Probst of Belmont, Iowa, and Lieut. Robert White of Ada, Okla., first heard the story from the British prisoner of how Nazi SS troops, using the starving Jewish prisoners as "pack mules," killed them when their task was done.

Fire Loss Small In New Castle

Record For Low Fire Loss Is Better
Than Most Cities, National Survey Of 465 Cities Reveals

(Special To The News)
NEW YORK, May 10.—New Castle turned in a better record of fire prevention and control during the past year than did most cities in the country, according to data just assembled by the National Fire Protection Association after a survey of 465 cities over 20,000 population. The city's record for 1944 with a total fire loss of $47,627, equivalent to an average of $1 per person. This compares favorably with the per capita loss of $2.56 for all cities. There were 2.9 building fires in the city per 1,000 inhabitants in 1944, less than the national average of 4.2 per 1,000 people. The efficiency of the local fire department is indicated by the fact that the 140 building fires that broke out in 1944 were quickly controlled and the damage kept to a minimum. The average loss per fire was $340, compared with $610 in other cities. The association points out that the nation's fire departments turned in an excellent record for 1944 despite the fact that practically all of them have operated under a handicap of inadequate manpower and lack of regular replacements of old apparatus, due to the war.

Curfew Hour Now Is Two O'Clock

HARRISBURG, May 10.—(INS)—Night clubs and tap rooms in Pennsylvania were advised today by the Liquor Control board they may remain open until 2 a. m. since War Mobilizer Fred M. Gelder. "The Pennsylvania Liquor Control board, with the approval of the governor, therefore authorizes licensed establishments in Pennsylvania to resume closing hours provided by law," he stated.

Metropolitan Guild Wants 2000 Members

Chairman L. J. Lewis Says Membership Campaign Going Well

Reports from workers in the membership campaign of the Metropolitan Concert Guild indicate the effort to sign up 2000 members for the coming season is meeting with considerable success. Already the total is well over 1000, with the entire first floor of the Cathedral sold as reserved seats. L. J. Lewis, director of the membership campaign is optimistic over the chances of making the 2000 members before the campaign ends on May 15.

This year's list of attractions is probably the best the Guild has offered. Leading the list of attractions is the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra under direction of Eric Leinsdorf. In addition to the orchestra, a New Castle artist, Edward McGill, pianist, will appear as a special soloist. Mr. McGill studied with several New Castle instructors before going to Peabody Institute in Baltimore and for a time after his graduation there he served on the faculty. He now has his own studio in New York City and also vocalist of national reputation. The other three attractions of the season include Sidney Foster, pianist, the American Ballad Singers and Lotte Lehman of the Metropolitan Opera.

There seems to be little doubt that this year's Metropolitan Guild program will be the choicest yet offered.

A fine program is being prepared, and it is hoped that every home in the community which displays a service flag will be represented at the meeting, regardless of church affiliation.

DON'T NEGLECT LOWER HALF OF YOUR DIGESTION

If Constipation Causes Gas, Bloating, Indigestion and Nausea, That May Be a Sign Your Food Needs Help After It Leaves the Stomach

When food passes out of the stomach, most of it is only partially digested. The greater part of digestion is done in the 25 feet or more of intestines. Upon how well this lower half of your digestion works depends how regularly and satisfactorily your bowels move... how free you are from gas, bloating, and indigestion distress that may come from decaying food.

To help this lower half of digestion, try Bechmans Pills. They help to get your liver bile, one of the most important digestive juices, to flowing freely. The liver bile helps to digest fats, and at the same time, to activate the bowels to relieve themselves. Then most folks start off the day with that beautiful morning feeling. Be sure to get genuine Bechmans Pills, used by millions since 1842. Caution: Use only as directed. 25¢.

German Repentance Cannot Be Forced, Psychologist Says

Dr. Carl Jung Approves Showing Atrocities To German Population

ZURICH, May 10.—(INS)—Dr. Carl Jung, one of the founders of modern psychology, believes that 10 per cent of the German population is incurably psychopathic.

In an exclusive interview with the Swiss weekly, "Die Weltwoche," Jung said that "the German resembles a drunkard awakening with a hangover, not knowing or not willing to know what he has done."

He will try frantically to rehabilitate himself in the face of the world's accusations and hate—but that is not the right way. The only right way is his unconditional acknowledgment of guilt," Jung declared.

"The American therapy of conducting the German population to concentration camps and making them see all the atrocities committed there, is thus quite correct. But such object lessons must not be combined with moral instruction. Instead German penitence must come from within."

Pfc. Richard Lewis Honored For Bravery

(Special to The News)

WITH THE FOURTH INFANTRY DIVISION OF THE SEVENTH ARMY IN GERMANY—Pfc. Richard Lewis, son of Ivo Lewis, 630 Morton street, New Castle, Pa., has been awarded the silver star for gallantry in action in the vicinity of Berdorf, Luxembourg, December 16 to December 24, 1944, when he helped to fight off innumerable enemy assaults by firing his rifle from a hotel window.

During the intense fighting, Pfc. Lewis remained at his post, and accounted for 20 enemy soldiers in spite of a rocket which tore an immense hole directly below his window. Though badly shaken by concussion and falling masonry, Pfc. Lewis continued fire until the hostile crew was destroyed, along with members of a second rocket launcher crew maneuvering nearby.

HERMANN GOERING

Fat, bemuddled Hermann Goering, long the No. 2 Nazi member of the Hitler-Goering-Goebbels triumvirate which pillaged a prostrate Europe, today was in Allied hands, awaiting trial on an unprecedented list of crimes against civilization.

No longer "Iron Hermann" but still maintaining some vestige of his characteristic air of the gaudy swashbuckler, he whined when he surrendered Tuesday night to the American Seventh Army in Austria he was no longer a henchman of Hitler—the same line adopted by the lowliest of Germans! But here are some of the charges he now faces—unparalleled in history.

Fired the Reichstag to give Hitler a pretext for seizing control of Germany.

As leader of the Prussian police, stamped out the last remains of German freedom after his boss, Hitler, took over.

Directed the Luftwaffe, which he organized, in merciless terror bombing of non-military objectives, including the "object-lesson" aerial assault on Rotterdam after that Dutch city had capitulated.

Looted art treasures and private estates in conquered countries for his own personal benefit.

Fifty-two-year-old Wilhelm Hermann Goering, world public enemy No. 2, is doomed by his own record.

Most people have the opinion that it is nicotine in tobacco that causes a yellow stain on a cloth when cigarette smoke is blown through it. This is not true, as the stain is caused by the resinous products that result from combustion of the tobacco.

Refreshingly results with triple action Certane. Gentle powder for intimate personal hygiene. This powder cleanses effectively, soothes sensitive tissues and is deodorizing. Delicately fragrant, too—leaves no medicinal odor. Economical. Must please or money back. All Druggists.

Sgt. Addison Davis Wins Bronze Medal

(Special to The News)

A NINTH AIR FORCE MEDICAL UNIT, Belgium—Award of the bronze star medal has been made to Technician Third Grade Addison J. Davis, New Castle, Pa., for his outstanding service as surgical technician in charge of a field hospital operating room from the early days of the invasion last June to January, 1945.

On the move from France to Belgium, one of many such moves, Sgt. Davis had his operating room facilities arranged in such a manner that the last of his equipment was still being used for surgery in France while the new location was ready for work upon arrival of the surgeons. This efficiency became more noteworthy during the rapidly shifting fighting of the battle of the Ardennes bulge.

Sgt. Davis is the husband of Mrs. A. J. Davis, 1130 Sciota street, New Castle, Pa.

Hawaiian women were put to death as late as 1819 if they ate bananas, coconuts, certain fish, pork or turtles.

ARMY POINT SYSTEM FOR DEMOBILIZATION MADE PUBLIC TODAY

overseas veterans with the required points who are home on leave under the rotation plan or on special duty.

Explains System

Maj. Gen. William F. Tompkins, special staff officer who explained the point system at a news conference, said that the 85-point scale was set up with a margin of safety. He indicated that discharges will be made on a much lower rating than 85.

Tompkins also said that more than the 1,300,000 which represents the reduction in the army's size in the shift to a one-front war, will be discharged under the plan.

He estimated that the number would total about two million minus such attrition from wounded, sick, and over-age soldiers as may occur in the coming year.

The 85-point interim critical score applies to all enlisted personnel in the army ground, air and service forces.

WAC Credit Needed

Members of the Women's Auxiliary Corps will need a score of 44 points.

Only points scored as of Saturday, May 12, will be taken into consideration in determining eligibility for release. However, after that credits will be allowed for decorations and battle participation stars earned prior to that date. Credit will also be given for children born before May 12 whose birth was not known to the father at the time the scores were prepared.

The five-point combat credits will apply to winners of the Distinguished Service Cross, Legion of Merit, Silver Star, Distinguished Flying Cross, Soldier's Medal, Bronze Star Medal, Air Medal, Purple Heart, and bronze service or battle participation stars.

Credit will also be given for the following navy awards: The Navy Cross, Distinguished Service Medal, Legion of Merit, Silver Star Medal, Distinguished Service Medal, Navy and Marine Corps Medal, Bronze Star Medal, Air Medal and Purple Heart Medal.

Awards and decorations of a foreign country which may be accepted and worn under war department regulations will also count for combat credit.

Majority of Combat Experience

Under the point system 73 per cent of the men who will be discharged will be those with combat experience although they constitute 35 per cent of the army today.

Fathers represent 19 per cent of the army but will constitute 26 per cent of the group returning to civilian life.

Tompkins said that commanding officers of companies will probably determine which men in his unit are first home and their right to discharge. However, appeal officers will be on hand at each of the 22 displacement camps and in all overseas units ready to review any ruling that a man may not be discharged because of his critical skill.

Enlisted men wishing to remain in the service will be retained if they have satisfactory records.

Air Force Reductions Small

Because of the requirements for the war against Japan the army service forces and the army air forces will be reduced much less than the strength of the army ground forces. This will cause the initial release to be more rapid among ground troops. However, through transfers of new trainees the general release will be proportionate, Tompkins explained.

Holders of the congressional medal of honor are automatically eligible for release. Married members of the WAC also are eligible for release on their own request if their husbands have been separated from the army and returned to civilian life.

The discharge of men more than 42 years old on their own application will continue.

Order of Returning Home

Soldiers who are returned home under the system are expected to obtain their discharges within 48 hours after their arrival at the separation center. Twenty-two such centers are being set up.

Those who are eligible for discharge will return home at about the same ratio as the general movement of troops. The movement at first will be slow but should reach a peak after about three months. Officials were unable to give a specific estimate of the rate of return.

Details of the "point" discharge system were released in Washington and in the field at 12 noon (EWT) today. In the field a motion picture "Two Down and One To Go" was shown to the troops. This picture makes clear to the soldiers the army's demobilization plans. It was accompanied by a commentary from Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff.

Demand German Horror Camp Heads Get Punishment

WASHINGTON, May 12—(INS)—A 12-man congressional committee just returned to Washington from a personal investigation of German horror camps in Europe demanded today that the Nazi leaders responsible be punished.

The group of senators and representatives who were accompanied by a number of editors and publishers, planned an immediate conference with top-ranking military officials to discuss the situation.

The two weeks visit to the liberated Nazi concentration camps was carried out at the request of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who had directed the lot of allied prisoners in Germany as too horrible for expression.

In a joint statement released through the war department upon their return on V-E day, the members of congress echoed Eisenhower's charges.

"We visited three of the major camps, Buchenwald at Weimar, Dora at Nordhausen and Dachau at Dachau near Munich," they said. "We found this entire program constituted a systematic form of torture almost beyond the power of words to describe. They reached depths of human degradation beyond belief and constituted no less than organized crime against civilization and humanity for which certain and adequate punishment should be meted out to all those who were responsible."

Demobilization In Navy Must Await Defeat Of Japan

WASHINGTON, May 10—(INS)—The navy, it was indicated today, will use the army's point system in demobilizing its forces, but it emphasized that "a final and precise blue print is not expected to be drawn until the defeat of Japan is at hand."

Rep. Philbin (D) Mass., disclosed that he was informed by the navy that it intends to observe the army's partial demobilization in actual operation before completing its own plans.

The navy department emphasized that it cannot demobilize until Japan is defeated, Philbin said.

Madagascar island, off the east coast of Africa, is nearly as large as the state of Texas.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Kiwanis Club Hears High School Chorus

Well-Balanced Program Presented
At Luncheon Meeting In The Castleton Wednesday

That most everyone appreciates good music was demonstrated at the noon luncheon meeting of the New Castle Kiwanis club, in The Castleton on Wednesday when the club members rose en masse as a tribute to the senior high school chorus at the conclusion of the splendid program they rendered in observance of V-E day.

The fine group of young singers presented a well-balanced program of chorus numbers. The solo parts were taken by Misses Helen Hays, Jane Patchell and Peggy Wilkison.

The program was presented under the direction of Robert A. Duff, music director of the senior high school, who has turned out some splendid choruses in the past few years at the high school, but none better than the current group.

The word "telegraph" dates to 300 B. C. and is a Greek word meaning "to write far off."

Home Town Loses Out In Fight For Doris Duke Money

PHILADELPHIA, May 10.—(INS)—The efforts of the little town of Hildborough, N. J., to cut itself in on the millions of Mrs. Doris Duke Cromwell and her late tobacco king father, James B. Duke, were blasted today for the second time.

The Third U. S. District Court of Appeals in Philadelphia, unanimously upheld the ruling of the U. S. District Court in Camden, N. J., which held that the township's assessment of approximately 14 million dollars in taxes against the plaintiff was "null and void."

The township had assessed taxes of $3,735,383.36 on the "intangible personal property" of Mrs. Cromwell in New Jersey, and $10,069,409.80 on the "intangible personal property" of the Duke endowment fund, created by her father for the benefit of Duke University.

The taxes were for the years 1940 and 1941, and at the rate of $312 per $100 of personal property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mrs. Cromwell contended that the taxing authority "unjustly discriminated against her" and tried to "soak" her for taxes that were not imposed on other residents.

She also contended that she has not been a resident of New Jersey since prior to 1940 when she "deliberately and intentionally established herself" as a resident of Hawaii.

The township has still one more chance to win its hoped for pot of gold—The United States Supreme Court.

Goering's Cousin Not Very Friendly

ROCKFORD, Ill., May 10.—(INS)—They should never have taken the big fat slob alive. Even hanging is too good for him.

That was the reaction of Edward Goehring today when the 49-year-old cousin of Nazi Air Marshal Herman Goehring heard that his tubby relative had been captured.

Goehring, a Rockford sign painter, is a naturalized American who was a childhood playmate of the Nazi official.

"He was a smart aleck always," Goehring said. "Why, when he grew fat and powerful, he wouldn't even recognize or have anything to do with his own mother and father. The world would be well rid of such disgraceful creatures."

Veteran Hurlers Grab Limelight With Victories

Thornton Lee Of White Sox, Dizzy Trout Of Tigers Rack Up Wins

PIRATES THUMP BOSTON 9 TO 5

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, May 10.—Two veteran hurlers grabbed the limelight today as Chicago, Detroit and New York battled back and forth in the second lap of what looks like another red-hot pennant race in the American league.

The pitchers were Thornton Lee, former White Sox ace now making a grand comeback, and Dizzy Trout, high class work horse of the Tigers. Lee kept the Sox on top by turning back the Athletics, 6 to 4. Trout again hung the Indian sign on the Yankees, 4 to 1. The Tigers taking second place away from the New Yorkers. Still, the Yanks are only one game behind the White Sox.

Indians Scalp Boston
Allie Reynolds of the Cleveland Indians won a neat 2 to 1 duel from Jim Wilson of the Boston Red Sox, thanks to a ninth inning single by Pinch-Hitter Paul O'Dea with the bases loaded.

Cold weather stopped the Washington Senators and the St. Louis Browns.

Giants Down Reds
In the National league, pitcher Harry Feldman scored his fourth victory in as many starts as the pace-setting New York Giants downed Cincinnati, 6 to 1, in a night contest. Manager Mel Ott of the Giants hit the 494th homer of his big league career, tying the lifetime total of the late Lou Gehrig.

The Giants put the game on ice in the very first inning when they scored four runs on five hits.

The Brooklyn Dodgers strengthened their hold on second place when Dixie Walker, last year's hitting champion, regained his last batting eye and led his mates to a 5 to 4 win over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Pirates Thump Boston
The tail-end Phillies snapped their six-game losing streak by dusting off the Chicago Cubs, 5 to 2. Big Bill Lee, former Cub, held the Braves to five hits.

With three Boston errors stalling Pittsburgh to five runs, the Pirates downed the Braves 9 to 5 behind the pitching of Southpaw Preacher Roe. Big Jim Tolan of the Braves was shelved off the hill in the fourth after yielding ten hits.

Before the war 300,000 goats were required annually to supply the mohair demanded by the automobile industry.

Mash And Gennock To Coach Youths

Veteran Semi-Pros Will Coach Sons Of Italy Entry In American Legion Junior League

Nick George, business manager of the Sons of Italy Junior baseball team of the American Legion Junior League announced today that Mike Mash and "Cacky" Gennock will have charge of the coaching duties of the team for the 1945 season.

Both are veterans of long experience in the semi-pro ranks here. Mash having played with the strong Moose team last year, and Gennock with the I. A. M.

The Sons of Italy team expects to make a strong bid for the Legion championship this year, with a well-balanced team consisting of Marcutti, Frasso, James, Janacuna, "Buzzy" Panella, DeGillo, Larenta, Fontinello, Pasqualone, Coppel, Morilla, DiCola, Padula, Vaneli, Conti, Cook, R. Janacuna, Hawkins, and Ross.

The team has won its first two warm-up games this year, defeating the Keystone by a score of 9-7, and the South Side Lions, 4-1. In this latter contest, Conti was in splendid form, holding the Lions to three hits and fanning 21 batters.

This evening, the Sons of Italy will play Fannins at Dean Park, the contest starting at 6 o'clock.

Tri-County Loop Sponsoring Big Track Carnival

Upwards Of 100 Young Athletes To Compete At Stadium May 19, Announced

RONALD CLAUSE NAMED PRESIDENT

Lawrence County was well represented at the first annual dinner-meeting of the Tri-County Athletic Conference held at a Zelenople Hotel last evening. Plans for the First Annual Tri-County Track and Field Carnival at Taggart Stadium, this city, Saturday, May 19, were laid. Upwards of 100 young class B athletes will participate.

At an election of Tri-County officers for the ensuing year—Ronald Clause, principal of Zelenople High School was elected to the presidency, with Edwin Anderson, principal of Evans City High as vice-president, and J. H. "Ham" Hudson, principal and coach at Mars, Pa. High being elected as secretary-treasurer. Stepping out of offices they have filled so capably during the past year were Chandler McMillan, principal of Bessemer High as president and Milton A. Patterson, principal of Union High as secretary-treasurer.

Track Carnival Discussed

Five of the schools in the Tri-County Conference will enter teams in the Carnival May 19, with a possibility that two more schools will see fit to enter teams. The schools entering teams in the meet—Union, Shenango, Bessemer, Zelenople, and Mars. The two possibilities are—New Wilmington and Slippery Rock. The meet will be staged in accordance with the rules of the P. I. A. A. and the W. P. I. A. A. It was determined no one athlete will be permitted to enter more than three events. A trophy cup for the winners of the meet will be secured by the conference. Glenn Johnston, principal of Shenango High School is general chairman of the Track Carnival.

Arranged Fourteen Events

It was agreed upon by the interested parties present that 14 events will be staged during the Carnival, starting at 1 o'clock. The hurdles and one-mile relay having been scratched.

Attending the dinner (steak and chicken) last night in addition to those already named from Lawrence County, Clayton Hofmeister, faculty manager at Union High, Coach Wilbur T. Patterson of Union High, Coach Eddie Nahas of Shenango High, Coach Joe Woreuk of Bessemer High, Joseph Martin of the music dept. of Bessemer High, and Charles P. "Bugs" Walker of The News sport staff. From Butler County, Ed Rodemeyer track coach at Zelenople; A. D. Anderson, basketball coach of Zelenople; and Harry Bessecker, football and basketball coach of Evans City High. A report from Treasurer Patterson on the recent Tri-County basketball tourney was read, revealing a tidy sum of around $200 in the treasury to start the new year 1945-46.

Bell Defeats Hunter; Meets Doyle June 7

CLEVELAND, May 10.—(INS)—Belting Tommy Bell of Youngstown had hurdled another major obstacle and faced only one more today in his drive for a crack at Freddie Cochrane's welterweight championship.

Bell slugged his way to a TKO victory over Chuck Hunter of Cleveland last night in the fifth round of their scheduled ten-round bout. It was his third victory over the Cleveland.

Bell is scheduled to meet Jimmy Doyle of Los Angeles in Cleveland June 7 and the winner of that bout will fight it out with Cochrane for the title in an outdoor show in the lakefront stadium late in July, according to present plans.

'Mickey' Cochrane Is Sent To Iowa

IOWA CITY, Ia., May 10.—(INS)—Lt. Cmdr. Gordon "Mickey" Cochrane, former major league catcher, was en route today to Iowa Preflight school where he will be a member of the physical training and military department.

Cochrane, manager and coach last season of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station baseball team, will not be a baseball coach at Iowa Preflight. It was understood.

Union-Shenango Arrange Meet

Coach Wilbur Patterson of Union High and Coach Eddie Nahas of Shenango High have gotten together and arranged for a dual track and field meet at the Union High field for Monday afternoon, May 14.

Both Union and Shenango will enter teams in the First Annual Tri-County Track and Field Carnival to be held at Taggart stadium on Saturday, May 19.

UMPIRES TO MEET FRIDAY EVENING

An important meeting of the Lawrence County Umpires' association will be held at the "Y" at 8 o'clock Friday night. It was announced today by Leo W. Hill, president of the association.

Horse Racing To Resume Saturday

PAWTUCKET, R. I., May 10.—(INS)—New England horseracing swings into full stride Saturday, with an eight-race program listed at Narragansett Park, Publicity Director Billy Ames announced Wednesday.

Ames said a 25-day meeting which will end June 9 had been tentatively arranged, pending the lifting of the racing ban by War Mobilizer Fred M. Vinson, which was announced Wednesday.

Will Reopen in July

Camden, N. J., May 10.—Garden State race track officials went into the stretch on preparations for the 1945 season Wednesday as War Mobilizer Fred M. Vinson turned on the green light by lifting the horseracing ban.

Eugene Mori, president of the Garden State Racing association, announced that the track would open July 13 for a 50-day meet.

Baseball Loop Starts May 27

Decide To Have Six-Team City-County Baseball League This Summer

Plans for a strong six-team city-county baseball league here this summer were made last night at an enthusiastic meeting at the Sporting Goods store at 8 o'clock. According to announced plans the league will start play Sunday, May 27.

The five teams already in the league are—Wampum, Ellwood City, Shenango Pottery, Moose club, and Edenburg. The sixth team will be chosen from either Pennsylvanians of Mahoningtown, or West Shippensburg, which ever team gets their franchise money on the line first. Incidentally the franchise ante was set at $50.00.

Arrange 20 Games

It was decided to play three games a week, 15 games in each half, with an open week in between the first and second half to allow for playing off postponed games.

The Shannongess playoff system of determining the winners will probably be used in determining the champions at the end of the year. It was decided upon that umpires be paid $3.50 for week-day games and $4.00 for Sunday games.

Another meeting of the year to ratify officials of the league already chosen will be held next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Sporting Goods store. A schedule will be submitted very shortly after the sixth team is secured.

GO AHEAD GIVEN FOR DOG SHOWS

Baksi-Walcott Fight Postponed

PITTSBURGH, May 10.—(INS)—Blue ribbons and contest lounges came back in style today for prize-winning dogs—the Office of Defense Transportation has given the go-ahead for dog shows planned by kennel clubs in Pittsburgh and western Pennsylvania, according to Robert L. Cook, publicity director of the Pittsburgh club.

RAY AND LANE BOUT ARRANGED

CHICAGO, May 10.—(INS)—Elmer "Violent" Ray of Hastings, Fla., who has a record of 28 straight knockouts over heavyweight opponents, has been matched to meet Larry Lane of Trenton, N. J., in rounds in the Coliseum June 1. Promoter Jack Kearns announced today.

Lane dropped a decision last week to Joe Baksi in the Coliseum ring.

Fair Or Foul

NEW YORK, May 9.—Happy Chandler, the new baseball commissioner, has picked himself a knockdown and dragout fight with the race horse people. Because he is a native Kentuckian he resents bitterly a recent admonition from him to his ball players against attending the races because of possible public nuisance.

He fears they will be seen with gamblers and in taking this stand it seems to me he is (1) Attempting to dictate to ball players how to spend their off-time and (2) Saying by inference that ball players operate in some special sphere that sets them apart from other normal people.

Touches Off Fireworks
In any case, he has touched off some fireworks. He has displayed considerable ability to take it as a politician and perhaps will weather this storm in customary fashion. He has the outstanding sports job in the nation at the moment and as such has the weight of prestige in his favor.

It may wind up as a bitter fight between racing and baseball, with the forces of each solidly lined up against each other and determined to fight it out to the finish.

The racing people are a little touchy at the moment because the horses were stopped from running and baseball was permitted to go ahead. Through it all, racing never made an issue of that point, never even mentioned it. But the racing people now figure that with their backs to the wall while baseball is enjoying customary prosperity their native son should not have gone out of his way to throw those punches.

Should Have Tradition
The horse people have been reduced to fighting a running, defensive battle. I don't understand this. They are apologetic at times, and at other times they simply stand off and yammer back at people who attack them.

What racing should do is get together and say we have a tradition; we have millions in investments; we are a major sport; we are

CAMPFIRE CORNER

PERNICIOUS PERENNIAL

This, conscience shouts, is about the time of year to write that annual column on poison ivy because thousands of persons annually are more or less incapacitated every season by contact with the noxious growth.

Last summer, at a lake I visited on a fishing trip, an old timer who assisted around the camp was prowling about the site of a backwoods shack that had long since burned down, leaving only a small cellar, or hole in the ground which had been used for storing vegetables to mark its former presence. The depression was overgrown with briars and other shrubs.

Negligence

Next day he began to "itch all over" and soon watery blisters appeared on his face, neck, legs, ankles and almost everywhere else on his epidermis. He was still out of circulation when I left the camp two weeks later. Yet that old timer knew all about poison ivy. He just hadn't contacted any in recent years and had lapsed into indifferent negligence.

Poison ivy may be either a shrub or a vine. Each compound leaf has three leaflets, coarsely or partially notched or smooth along the edges. The poison oak, closely related, is a shrub, with even more coarsely notched leaf margins and with leathery, thickly covered with hair. The poison sumac, resembling the ordinary harmless species except that it has greenish-white berries instead of red ones and smooth leaf margins instead of serrate, grows only in swampy places.

Ivy Remedy

All three plants exude the same sort of poisonous yellow oil. One of the best remedies is thorough washing with strong yellow laundry soap. Another is a compress saturated with two teaspoons of baking soda diluted in a cup of warm water. If severely affected consult a physician. If you wish to be forearmed, or directly after exposure, wash exposed parts with a five per cent solution of ferric chloride in half and half mixture of water and alcohol, letting it dry on the skin. Any druggist can prepare this for you.

Athletes Aided Hitler's Demise; Japs Next On List

Hitler's So-Called Super-Men Had Us Worried But Short Time

SPORTS HAS GIVEN FREELY TO CAUSE

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 10.—There were some things that Hitler couldn't do.

For instance, he couldn't whip the United States, which have never lost a war, and he couldn't put a damper on our enthusiasm for sports. He did manage to make it a little tough for us. He cut down our red points and he arranged to take away from this country some of our greatest athletes.

But even while we were busy putting the bum in his place we managed to get our sports thrills and, while we sometimes wondered about the tremendous crowds for mediocre events, we knew down deep that this was the American way.

Score Caught On

It might be recalled now that when we got into this war against so-called super-men we felt a little ill at ease.

We were like a boxer feeling himself out for a round or two and once we got going we could see the finish line waiting for us.

Tuesday should be an everlasting great day on the sports calendar. Perhaps sports should set it aside to be remembered down through the years. This was the day when finally we got back in the sports groove.

This was the day of the armistice, or like Christmas following Christmas Eve.

It means that a lot of athletes will come tramping home along with the rest of the service men.

Will Kick Japs Too

Hitler managed one war and another to cut our baseball down to something very close to amateur competition. He reduced our boxing to a pale imitation to the real thing. He confused our football teams and our schedules. He forced cancellation of some of our great sports fixtures. He caused horse racing to be abandoned.

But the bum couldn't make us throw in the towel.

At the proof they were counting over him, not us. They were rearranging the map the way we wanted it for the sake of all humanity and not the way he had arranged it for himself.

We will be picking up the marbles soon in the Pacific too.

It has been rugged, but as we come to the last round we are tougher than we were at the start. That's something to be remembered by the world.

DATE FOR DERBY

Undecided Upon

Kentucky Derby Will Be Run, Colonel Matt Winn Decides

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 10.—(INS)—In Louisville, Ky., authorities at Churchill Downs said that racing will start at the Keeneland track in Lexington May 16 and run thru May 25.

Churchill Downs will open May 26 and run until June 16. No date has been set for the Kentucky Derby.

Arrange Dates

A delay in scheduling the date for the derby is due to Col. Matt J. Winn's desire to work out an arrangement whereby the Pimlico, Preakness and the Belmont stakes can be raced with the derby in their usual one-two-three order.

Col. Winn said in Chicago that the date for the 71st running of the Churchill Downs classic may not be announced before next Saturday.

He said that the derby purse would be substantially larger than the $75,000 of last year.

Russia's population of 193 million consists of nearly 200 different nationalities and racial and language groups.

HERE AND THERE

IN SPORTS' LAND

IS THE Neshannock still as liberally as it should be with bass? This was a query yesterday when a group discussed fishing. Among those who had fished in the Neshannock was Cecil Huber one of the better fishermen of the district. He pointed out that the Neshannock is one stream which has escaped pollution and it is made the bass stream it deserves to be. It would soon win the reputation Paradise Creek and Brokenstraw now hold for trout. "Annually fishermen would then way to distant streams and lakes, yes, to Canada. The fishermen expect money for meals and hotel accommodations. I believe that were the Neshannock stocked as it could be this city would indirectly receive revenue from fishing. He pointed out many bass are now caught annually in the stream. He said the water is ideal and asserted there is plenty of food for more liberal stocking. And now that Mr. Huber has expressed himself it is possible that the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association may take up the subject, discuss it and if the members agree with the views of the sportsman, try to get more bass from the state fish commission for the stream.

"Several of the large sportsman clubs in Northwestern Pennsylvania are making preliminary plans for the home coming of their members now in military service. They plan to hold elaborate first days celebrations in honor of the members which will be back from the war. There will be the shooting and casting events along with the sporting dog trials and many other activities. There will be games and events for the ladies and children. At noon there will be a time family picnic dinner. There will be pop and ice cream and the other necessities for the kiddies. In the evening there will be the ox-roast and wildlife movies. It will be wonderful to once again mingle with the crowds of sportsmen and their families. Once again outdoor people will take up these grand meets, where they left off when the war struck," writes Seth Meyers of the Northwest Division of the Federation of Sportsmen. "It was again as in the old days, sportsmen meeting in friendly competition with nothing other in mind than to do their best at the traps or on the casting pond. Dog owners will use their houses up to the tree or for first place at the finish line. The winners and the losers all with genuine smiles of friendship regardless of how they made out in the events, heading for home, tired but happy to be an American sportsman. This is Americanism at its best and always to be found at sportsman doug outdoors, indoors, in the field or along the stream, no matter what the setting."

"Those flowers you noticed springing up in the swamp along the Slippery Rock are Trilliums," said Owen Fox to the writer yesterday. Senator A. B. Chandler of Kentucky recently indicated that oil players should stay away from race tracks to avoid public reprove. It happens Kentucky is the land of the horse and seeing the breeding place of the race industry of the Kentucky Derby. Kentuckians are up in arms about their own son, a former governor, Blood Horse, a publication of breeders of thoroughbreds has slapped him verbally for his outburst. It is possible that he will never win a Kentucky colony because of his taboo suggestion. No sooner had the Germans laid down their arms in Germany until the Yanks picked up baseball bats and the grand old American pastime is being played wherever there are American troops in Europe. No Jimmie, the Bobbi Sox are not in either major league. They belong to the Shattara stream. Archie Starace, former secretary-general of the Fascist party who was killed with Mussolini by Italian Partisans, is the same man who delivered the address of welcome at the World Professional Boxing Congress in Rome 1938.

Local Group Plans Child Labor Clinic

Federal, State Experts Will Explain Legislation To Employers At Clinic May 18

Child labor legislation will be the subject of a clinic and dinner sponsored by the Personnel Association of Lawrence county in the coral room of The Castleton hotel on Friday, May 18, at 6:30.

This clinic has been arranged by the association in order that all employers and employees in this area will have an opportunity to learn complete details of the federal and state labor laws before employing children for the summer vacation period. Executives of the children's bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, the bureau of women and children of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction will explain the laws.

An important feature of the coming clinic will be the question-and-answer period, during which any employer may ask or write out questions which will be answered by experts on the information panel. The number of child labor violations in Pennsylvania, according to U. S. officials, has increased tremendously in recent months, and therefore this clinic is being held as a public service feature of the association so that all employers, whether in retail or wholesale business or in industry, may avoid drastic penalties.

Reservations for the dinner are in charge of H. R. Neill, program chairman.

Jeroboam making idols to worship.

"Be strong and of good courage."—Joshua 1:6.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for May 13 is I Kings 12:22; II Kings 1:10, 15; 17:6-8. The Memory Verse being Joshua 1:6. "Be strong and of good cheer."

Until the death of King Solomon Israel had been an united kingdom. Now we are about to see it partitioned into two kingdoms.

When Rehoboam, Solomon's son, began to reign, the people came to him and asked that the grievous burdens which Solomon had laid upon them be removed. In spite of his wisdom, Solomon had put a heavy yoke upon his people, being greedy for riches and power.

Rehoboam asked that he be given three days in which to answer his people. He first called the wise old men who had counseled his father, and they told him to speak good words to the people and to serve them. "Then they will be thy servants forever," they told him.

Not being a wise man like his father, Rehoboam then called his special pals, the young men with whom he had grown up. They advised him to be even harder on the people than his father had been. "Whereas my father did lade you with a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke; my father hath chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions."

Ten Tribes Revolt

As a consequence, the ten northern tribes, revolted against Rehoboam and chose Jeroboam, who had been banished to Egypt, for their king, only little Judah and Benjamin adhering to Rehoboam. Never again were all 12 tribes united.

The northern kingdom of Israel lasted about 210 years, with never a good king on its throne. Judah lasted as long again with 19 kings, some good, some bad. Rehoboam gathered his army together and was going to wage war on Israel, but the word of God came to him forbidding it.

Now Jeroboam was afraid that whereas the people were in the habit of going to Jerusalem to worship and to observe the great feast days, they would eventually drift away from him and he would be put to death. Therefore he decided to erect a new center of worship and he made two golden calves, setting one in Bethel and one in Dan, thus making the house of Israel to sin against God. These images were supposed to represent the Lord, but they had been forbidden to make to themselves any images of the Lord, so they were disobeying the law. Jeroboam told the people that it was too far for them to go to Jerusalem, so he would make worship easy for them.

In the following chapters we have accounts of both of the kings of Israel and Judah, but this lesson is about the tragedy of the northern kingdom, so we will confine ourselves to it. Five minor kings of Israel ruled after Jeroboam. First was Nadab, son of Jeroboam, who was murdered and followed by his murderer, Baasha, who reigned for 24 years and destroyed all the house of Jeroboam. Next was Elah, son of Baasha, who also was murdered. The fourth was Zimri, who after seven days was buried to death in the palace. Omri followed, who reigned for 12 years and moved the capital of the kingdom to Samaria.

Strong But Wicked

One of the wickedest, but strongest, kings succeeded Zimri, Ahab. He did evil in the sight of the Lord all his days, encouraged by his wicked wife, Jezebel, a Canaanite. Even after his death her influence persisted in the reigns of his sons. Her name is the synonym for wickedness in women.

Now we read of one of the greatest characters in Old Testament history. It is Elijah, the prophet, the Tishbite, he is called, because he was born in Tishbe in the tribe of Naphtali. The miracles connected with him are too many to relate here. He was fed by ravens; he raised a widow's son from the dead. He challenged the priests of Baal, gathering 400 priests to perform sacrifice to Baal while he had 120 of the priests of the Lord. The idolatrous priests were utterly defeated and Elijah killed them all.

For this Jezebel sent a messenger to tell him she would have him killed, so he fled to the wilderness. He was discouraged and wanted to die, but the Lord sent an angel to comfort him and tell him what to do, which was to return to the place of danger from which he had departed, and to anoint a successor.

Elisha, son of Shaphat, was plowing the field when Elijah came upon him. Elijah cast his cloak upon Elisha. Elisha begged permission to go and kiss his father and mother goodbye, and then he followed Elijah and served him.

Elisha was honored by the kings after the horrible death of Jezebel. The final tragedy in this long lesson occurred when in the ninth year of Hoshia, king of Assyria, he took Samaria and carried Israel into exile.

For so it was, that the children of Israel had sinned against the Lord their God, and had feared other gods.
